

shop around

Scenario 9

Fiona leaves an expensive bracelet with a jeweller who agrees to repair it. When she returns to collect her bracelet, she finds it has been stolen from the jeweller's shop in a burglary. She wants compensation, but the jeweller's insurance does not cover this incident. Fiona feels that the jeweller must pay to replace her bracelet.

Is she correct?

